To whom it may concern:

As a K9 handler in a rural area, training as well as finding able trainers can be a challenge. You need to find opportunities that are based on creativity, adaptability and longtime proven techniques. Recently, at a training seminar I was graced to train alongside Ben Andujar, of East Coast Working Dogs. It was a wonderful experience and Andujar proved to be a trainer who was able to assist in all my desired disciplines. I found Andujar to be very capable, outgoing and his personality brought life to the training days. When it came time to work he was highly confident in his skills to train, assist, advise and help bring my K9 and me to another level. I left the seminar as a better K9 team then before I trained alongside Andujar. I appreciated his willingness to work at any level and help bring us to the next level. I would recommend working with and/or training under Andujar at any time.

Sincerely,
